Happy Unity Day, Canes! Today's the day! We are coming together to celebrate kindness, acceptance, and inclusion—our whole school community of students, teachers, staff, and parents—so that we can make a school that's happier and healthier, a school where you can be all that you want to be. Each of us can make our school a better place and I know I'll see you reaching out to say hello to someone new, including a new friend in your game, and many other positive actions from now on. Happy Unity Day, Canes!
